POL AND VAVERDE FAMILIES

CONTRIBUTED BY: Mrs. James H. Lewis, Jr.
220 Krebs Avenue
Pascagoula, Miss., 39567

Captain Miguel Leon Pol, born April 11, 1833 on the Isle of Palma de Mallorea, Spain came to the United States a stranger and a penniless lad of eighteen years. Unlike most youths in this situation, and true to his early pious training, he avoided every evil haunt, influence and associated and applied himself with the spirit of energetic industry that characterized his life and won for him the admiration and respect of all who knew him to paving a path to wealth and position for himself.

Captain Pol conducted a ship building business for several years and later formed partnership - the Pol and Frentz Shipbuilding Company - with Captain George Frentz, which existed at the time of his death, September 4, 1879. He had a stave business around Demopolis, Alabama. He was also connected with The Hume Timber Company up the Pascagoula River.

Captain Pol had been Spanish vice-consul at the Port of Pascagoula (Mississippi) for many years. He and his wife, Margarette were the parents of Margarette (Morgan), Ann (Ros), Belle (Huggins), Sis (Nelson), Joseph Andrew, Abb (Santa Cruz), Rose (Santa Cruz), Miguel (Mig) who married Gertrude A. Frederic and Mamie (Grayson).

Anthony "Sambal" Valverde, was born in Aveca, Spain married Jane Davidson, born Feb. -- 1821 in St. Tamanny Parish, near Pearlington, Mississippi. He owned 640 acres of land at Little River and operated a freight line along the Gulf Coast. The nickname "Sambal" started among his fellow workers because of his habit of saying "cim vil" meaning if there is anything to it or any value in it. From this it became "Sambal". He often called his wife "Madam Sambal".

There were seven children born of this union:
Ben, Josephine (Feen), Miguel Leon (Babe), Charlie, Manuella Valverde (Pol), Victoria (Tet) and William.

There are many descendants of the Pol and Valverde families living in the Gulf Coast area.

TROLLEY TALK

Whither, O whither, love, shall we go
For a score of sweet little "mornings" or so?
The sweet little trolley car, oh, so good,
To Ballard park in a car run by road.

Bush is it.

Hot for Ballard park.

Hurrah for Dr. L. S. Anderson who started the ball rolling.

Mr. L. E. Cox has secured the contract for advertising space within the electric cars.

Let us urge the building of a landing at a convenient point at the mouth of the river.

Mr. H. M. Walker, an octogenarian and pioneer citizen of East Side, enjoyed a trip to the county seat by the trolley car route.

To Mr. H. E. Pope is due the stringing of the electric trolley wire from Pascagoula to Moss Point, and he it said that there was not one hitch on the line.

Prominent among the afternoon patrons of the trolley cars Saturday last was the smiling and beloved face of our editor of the "Old Reliable," who enjoyed a ride to Pascagoula and return.

Everything must have its rules and regulations and motor cars must form no exception. These are in printed form and decorate the interior of the cars. It is up to everyone to read and observe them.

The trolley express car jumped the track near the intersection of Telephone street and Pascagoula street about 11 o'clock Monday morning. The line was obstructed for two hours, after which traffic proceeded as usual.

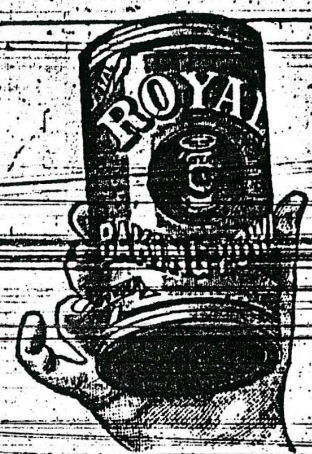

The first trolley car party of the season was given last Friday by Messrs. R. C. Cowan, W. W. Woodman, Wise Krebs and Nelo Ros complimentary to Messrs. Camille Sarrazin, Bessie Andrus, Ella Krebs, Eran and Aime Krebs and Jessie Crosbie.

Manager S. S. Bush, with his usual energy, promises, and we know he will fulfill his contract, to extend the trolley line from the terminal at Moss Point to the L. N. Dantzer Lumber Company's office site at the confluence of the Escatawpa and Pascagoula rivers within thirty days.

Sunday was a clear crisp day—a real Indian summer day, which made every one feel in a good humor with himself and all the world, and they gave evidence of this by the enjoyment with which they took possession of the electric cars. The cars seemed happy themselves laden with a laughing freight of joyous citizens.

"It will leak out, but promise me faithfully that you will not let anyone know I told you," was overheard on the trolley car. Some one we all admire has become enamored by Cupid and has been to New Orleans purchasing her trousseau. I really am afraid to mention her name, but it is said the bride that is to be is taking to her heart one of our well known citizens. Now you may all guess who's who.

Rev. J. B. Culpepper, the noted evangelist, will deliver his famous lecture to men only at 3 p. m. Sunday, at the Methodist church, Moss Point. Don't miss the opportunity.

A Pretty Wedding.

Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock Miss Emma Marguerite Frentz, the second daughter of Capt. and Mrs. George Frentz, and Capt. Charles Henry Bruce, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. O. Smith, Lutheran pastor, in the parlor at the home of the bride's parents on Cedar street. The apartments were profusely decorated with palms and flowers and the bridal party stood beneath an arch of roses and evergreen. The bride wore an elegant gown of white corded silk with a veil of tulle, and was attended by her sister, Miss Georgina Frentz, as flower girl. The bridesmaids were Misses Helena Frentz and Mattie Colle, elegantly gowned in white silk. Messrs. Adolph Frentz and Herman Colle were groomsmen. Miss Ida Frentz rendered Mendelssohn's wedding march. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served in the dining room. The bride was the recipient of numerous and beautiful presents.

Capt. and Mrs. Bruce took possession of their handsome new home, the late Poi property. They will leave for Kingston, Jamaica, on the schooner Anna M. Stammer in about ten days.

"It touched" a good many here.

The smart Alecks are not all dead. They say it "never touched them!" Watch your flies and keep insured. The pauper list is growing in this county. Girls, don't let the boys kiss you over the fence. Not many female angels visit lovers' haunts these cold nights.

Sheriff Moore brought Sherman Danley down from Mobile Tuesday and placed him in jail here. Danley, it will be remembered, is charged with the killing of Contractor Collins, of the Mobile, Jackson and Kansas City Railroad, in the northern part of this county, on the 15th of October last. Danley will have a preliminary hearing before Judge James H. Reardon at Three Rivers next Saturday.

Thursday night, Nov. 25th, at about nine o'clock, the tug Eva with cargo in tow, ran into the cable-house of the Western Union on the draw bridge over the river. The wires were mixed up to a considerable extent. Lineman O. A. Baker reached the scene shortly after and placed the lines in order again.

John Johnson, a negro preacher, was tried before Judge Chidsey on Monday on a charge of forgery and placed under $300 bond for his appearance at the next term of circuit court. Johnson was an employee of the Farnsworth Lumber Co., and filed out some blank orders, one for $6.00 on Hughes & Herrick and one for $4.25 on J. P. Lebusan. Johnson secured these blank orders from the office and attached the signatures of the company and

A BRILLIANT WEDDING.

After a long lapse of time during which a gloomy cloud hung over our town, Scranton society was at last gladdened, Tuesday evening, by the prettiest and the most brilliant wedding of the year. The bride was Miss WILHELMINA E. COLLE, the charming and accomplished daughter of Mrs. H. Colle, and the groom, Mr. HENRY HERMAN FRENTZ, son of Capt. Geo. Frentz, both of this place. The Church of the Evangelical Lutheran church was beautifully ornamented with evergreens and flowers, and was filled with a large and select assemblage of the numerous relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

As the bridal party entered the church, the inspiring strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march resounded through the whole sacred edifice, and all eyes were turned upon the bride, admiring her modest and graceful figure, as well as her nuptial dress, a rich white silk, on train, with the accompanying cape and veil adorned with orange blossoms. Leaning upon the arm of her grandfather, Capt. John Tarkel, Miss Colle reached the graceful and artistic arch of evergreens over which hovered the intoning emblems of cupid, a flowery heart and arrow. Upon the threshold of the arch stood Pastor Broders, who performed the nuptial ceremonies according to the impressive rites of the Lutheran church, after which he addressed a few words of congratulation and advice in the newly wedded pair.

The maid of honor was Miss Ida Frentz, the bridesmaids were Misses Anna Buddig, of New Orleans, and Cora Davis, of Scranton. The best man was Mr. Henry Colle, and the groomsmen were Messrs. Andrew Brondorf and Cranus Larson.

The beautiful ornamentations of the church was the handiwork of Mesdames Chris. Nelson, C. J. Broders, Geo. Grandlund and Mesdames Nelsona Nelson, Emma and Lena Frentz and Cora Davis. After the ceremony the bridal party, accompanied by the invited guests, repaired to the home of the bride's mother, where, during the partaking of a bountiful repast, several toasts were tendered to the newly married couple. They were also made the recipients of many

WIDE ITEMS.

Who said we were a back number. Wade is still in the ring, and not disfigured, despite the hardships.

Peace, plenty and contentment prevails among us, although we have been shut off during the fever—pale from the outside world.

Messrs. T. Craft and Aldridge Smith, of Escatawpa, have been among our visitors lately, on business and pleasure.

There has been a recent change in the P. M. at Three Rivers, although Wade has not even had a thin slice of pie from the McKinley Kitchen.

We regret the departure from among us of the families of Mr. C. Elders and Mrs. Ferrell, Escatawpa, who have spent two months here. It was a big loss of the lad variety, but it did not blind the boys—they were "gwine where they were gwine," and it did not hold the fist. More soon, nuf sed.

Why is it that the County has allow private ferries kept on public roads, without bonds, and allow the keepers to charge tolls, and not even require them to keep safe said lands and things. Such is the case.

Our population has been largely increased this fall by refugees from the fever stricken towns. They have all returned home at last, and one man will now claw his sugar cane and breathe easy.

Among the recent hunters in our neighborhood was a notice Ray, G. W. Hug, from Escatawpa, Hon. C. H. Wood, Moss Point, T. Craft Smith, R. A. Roberts and others who were all more or less successful in killing turkey and squirrels.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sturtevant, of Vicksburg, and Mr. C. W. Eaton, of Mobile, are guests at the Cottage-by-the-Sea Hotel.

There is a good crop of pecans in this neighborhood, which are selling at big prices. No crop is surer or of longer life than the cultivated pecan.

The Scranton Fire Company brass band gave an open air concert at Ballard Park last Sunday afternoon to the delight of the large influx of visitors.

Captains John Arntzen, of the Norwegian bark Hebe and Marshall O'Hara, of the schooner Brooklyn, were Sunday guests of Harbor Master James McFaul.

Mrs. R. A. Dimitry, of Round Island, accompanied by her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gordon, of Chandeaur islands, spent two days on shore, visiting friends.

On last Friday night, Miss Mamie App, of Evansville, Ind., entertained a delighted party with a number of Spanish and American opera vocal selections at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hand.

A most enjoyable surprise party was tendered the Misses Emma and Helen Hand at their parents' residence, Shell-by-the-Sea, on last Saturday night. Those who passed a delightful time were: Mrs. A. Larson, Inspector Taylor and wife, and Capt. Wm. Muir, of the tug Chief; the Misses Mamie Larson, Dossie Ross, Corinne Marton and Edna Gibbon, Annie Parsley, Estelle Delius and Emma, Helen and Susie Hand; Messrs. On firemen's anniversary day, Mrs. Margaret De Jet, accompanied by Miss Melvin Ames, enjoyed a ride to the county seat from her home at Pascagoula. Her many friends were overjoyed to greet her indulging in such a healthful trip.

"How can you tell that she is a school marm?" asked "Senator" Coates of the DEMOCRAT-STAR reporter aboard a trolley car on a morning trip the other day. "Because by looking in her eyes I can see the pupils." The "Senator" went way back and sat down.

Prof. Charles E. Anderson, principal of the Moss Point central public school, accompanied by his assistants, Misses Adelaide Trent and Mary H. Swaffield, paid a visit to Scranton and Pascagoula last Saturday. They rode on the electric cars, which afford easy communication between the terminals at Moss Point and Ballard park on Pascagoula bay.

Paquette point, rechristened Ballard park, the terminal of the electric trolley line, has been fitted up with benches liberally scattered throughout the park, occupying shady nooks and beautiful sea views. Tables and chairs have been placed in readiness for the opening of the handsome pavilion. Beautiful walks are being covered with crushed shells and improvements are going on all over the territory. A number of swings have been placed in position for the delight of the young people and we can point with pride at the long needed seaside resort for tourists and visitors. Let a first-class hotel open its doors and our New Pascagoula will blossom as a rose.

Death of a Venerable Lady.

Last Saturday night at 10 o'clock Mrs.
Elenora Richard, nee Fayard, the aged mother of Mrs. George Frentz, died at the residence of her daughter, in the 92d year of her age. She was a native of Biloxi, Miss., and leaves two daughters and four sons, Mrs. Urania Larsen, Mrs.
George Frentz, Mr. S. B. Richard, of Scranton; Mr. Robert Richard, of Hattiesburg; Mr. Ed. Richard, of Biloxi, and Mr. M. V. Richard, of Lorraine. The funeral was held at the Catholic church Sunday afternoon and was largely attended, Rev. Father Ten-Brink performing the last sad rites. The interment was made in Machpelah cemetery. Her long life was passed in an unostentatious manner and her gentle influence was felt by all who knew her.

Real Estate Transfer.

The property known as the Wilcox place was purchased last Saturday by Rev. L. E. Hall, of Scranton, for which he paid the cash. This property has a beautiful frontage of 400 feet on the bay of Patasas and 400 feet frontage on each side of the electric railway. It extends a quarter of a mile east, including a valuable pecan grove and a substantial two-story building. It is the intention of the present owner to spend several thousand dollars in the improvement of this place. Mr. Hall, though one of the most active men in the Baptist ministry of the State, has made considerable money by industry and judicious investments in real estate. He has never made any mistakes, and knows a good thing when he sees it. The development of the property as contemplated will add very materially to the value of all it touches.

Firemen Celebrate.

This Thursday afternoon Scranton Fire Company No. 1 celebrated its twentieth anniversary by a fine parade, to be followed by a brilliant ball and supper at the Odd Fellows' opera house at night. The city of Pascagoula has reason to congratulate itself that for such a long term of years there has ever been a full quorum of brave volunteers, willing to protect our property from the awful destruction of fire. ALABAMA COUPLES

MARRY IN PASCAGOULA

Several marriages of Alabama couples have occurred in Pascagoula recently, but as neither the celebrants nor the authorities performing the ceremonies advised this paper of same, no mention was made of them at the proper time, the first couples appearing in the Mobile Register of Sunday.

PENSACOLA NAVAL AIR

CIRCUS VISITS HERE

Lieutenant D. Ketchan and a flying circus of a dozen planes from the Naval Air Station at Pensacola landed on the Jackson county aviation field Thursday at noon. Lieutenant C. Aleroy was in Pascagoula earlier in the week to make arrangements for gasoline for the planes that made the trip. This flight is a regular part of the training program for the men at the Pensacola Naval Air Station. These men seemed delighted with the local aviation field, both as to its firm surface and the markings of the field which can be plainly seen from high altitude. This field is a very popular place with the aviators at Pensacola, who look on the Pensacola and Pascagoula flight as a pleasant and safe air trip.

INFORMATIVE ADVERTISING DONE BY LOCAL BANKS

Special attention of the readers is called to the series of advertisements now being run in this paper by the two banks of this city.

The first of the series appeared in last week's issue. The caption was "Who Keeps Books for Your Bank?" This week the title is "What Does Your Bookkeeping Cost Your Bank?" Many of us, though we have non-bank customers all our lives, are not familiar with the methods used in carrying on our daily banking business. This series now being run will give some interesting facts as to methods used, costs and details of banks and banker's transactions and enable us to co-operate with our lo-

Announcement was made of the approaching visit to the Gulf Coast on Friday and Saturday of the members of the state lawmaking body and of their reception here.

MRS. GEORGE FRENTZ

Following her husband to the grave in only eight days, Mrs. Helena Richards Frentz, widow of Capt. George Frentz, who died last week, was buried in Macphelah cemetery Wednesday morning, Rev. Father O'Reilly of the Catholic church officiating.

Mrs. Frentz was sick only a few days, her death being caused by pneumonia and occurring on Monday morning at 10:45 o'clock. She was stricken just a few hours after attending the funeral of her husband, her illness and death having lasted many hours of weary vigil at the bedside of her life partner.

Mrs. Frentz was 76 years of age, was born in Woolmarket, Miss., but had lived in Pascagoula ever since her marriage to Captain Frentz, nearly 60 years ago. She had reared a large family here and endeared herself to a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. Living with her beloved husband for so many years, it would appear that fate was loath to separate them, and the angel of death used his kindly offices in reuniting them in the "Island of the blessed."

Mrs. Frentz is survived by a large connection of relatives, including six daughters and four sons, as follows:

Mrs. Chas. Melene, Mrs. C. H. Bruce and Mrs. T. J. Castaneda, of Pascagoula; Mrs. B. J. Irvin and Mrs. W. E. Alberts of Moss Point; Mrs. Philip Rolfe of Hattiesburg; Messrs. Adolph and Henry Frentz of Pascagoula, A. L. Frentz of Biloxi, and George Frentz of Gulfport. There are also 21 grandchildren, 5 great grandchildren. She is also survived by two brothers, S. B. Richards of this city and R. B. Richards of Hattiesburg. Peace to the souls of these two dear old people, and sympathy and consolation to the surviving bereaved ones.

Pas native experiences years of service in church

By CHARLES BROOKS

Mississippi Press Wire Editor

Hilma Melene was born to a Pascagoula seagoing family in 1903.

Her grandfather, George Frentz, a native of Germany, owned the Frentz shipyard on the East Pascagoula River near present-day Clark Seafood. She was born in the family home near the shipyard. Her father was Charles Melene, a Swedish sea captain, and her mother was Anna nee' Frentz.

When Hilma was two years old, the family moved to Panama, where her father took part in completing the Panama Canal. He worked as a towboat captain there. "I don't remember anything of the trip," Ms. Melene said. "But my mother told me we got into a storm and the ship was rocking, and I said, 'Whoa, horsey, don't go so fast!'"

The Melenes stayed in Panama four years. "The canal opened while we were there," Ms. Melene said.

She does remember the voyage back home in 1918. "It was the beginning of (the U.S. involvement in) World War I, and there were no lights on the ship."

She graduated from Pascagoula High School in 1923. Since returning from Panama, the family had moved to a house on Jackson Avenue. Her father was away at sea much of the time.

After her parents died, Ms. Melene went to live with her second cousin Florence and her husband, C.T. Moe, on Lake Avenue. Ms. Melene worked at Pascagoula Ice and Freezer.

Throughout her life, she has been very active at Christ Lutheran Church. She was baptized there, and began teaching Sunday school at the age of 14. She had begun taking piano lessons while living in Panama, and later played the organ at the church for 42 years. She was also a member of the Martha Society.

Now, Ms. Melene says she "likes to create." She enjoys painting and reading.
